

More new Type at The Ledger Printery. The Knowhow is here always.

Miss Nora Clinger declines the nomination for Queen of the Redmen's Carnival.

The fifty-ninth annual session of the Kentucky State Medical Association is being held at Lexington.

The first Sunday in June next, Dr. Henry M. Scudder will have been with the Elizaville Presbyterian Church forty-seven years.

The old Latonia Hotel, Covington, once kept by the late Bart Patterson of this city, will soon be converted into a furniture house.

Sheriff Roberson, Ed Richeson, Thomas Guilfoyle, Stanton Clift and others left this morning for Latonia to see the derby race.

Members of the Board of Education will save time and annoyance by calling at The Ledger office and signing the Diplomas of the High School graduates.

The Rev. William Clarke of Owenton and Miss Kate M. Winn of Sparta will wed Wednesday, June 1st, at the home of the bride-elect. Mr. Clarke was formerly Pastor of the Christian Church at Orangeburg and is very well known in this county.

Dr. Evans' lecture at the M. E. Church last night was largely attended. His subject "Kisses," being a subject in which the young people were particularly interested, hence they were out in force. The audience was well pleased with the manner in which the able divine handled his subject.

FIVE BIDS

Submitted Tuesday to State Schoolbook Commission

But five bids were submitted to the State Schoolbook Commission at Frankfort Tuesday for furnishing books in the state and of the five only two, the American Book Company and University Publishing Company, were for the full list.

In several instances the bids were below the price fixed by the new law.

May 28th was fixed as the date for the County Commissions to meet, consider the bids and make their selection.

There is a great musical treat in store for lovers of music in Maysville and vicinity at the Opera-house Monday evening the 23d inst. Brahms Van Den Berg, the Belgian pianist, will be heard in a program of surprising interest. His playing is a revelation, and so astonishing is his technique that he does seemingly impossible things. Mr. Van Den Berg has been in this country but a short time, but he has astonished musicians and critics with his virtuosity in a number of cities. He played this season with the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Frank Van Der Stucken in the great Music Hall and created unbounded enthusiasm. The Enquirer, in speaking of this performance, said:

The fifth Symphony Concert was a triumphant tribute to the artistic equipment of a pianist who has behind him the fame of an international success. Mr. Brahms Van Den Berg was heard in the Saint Saens Concerto for piano in G minor No. 2, a composition as pianistically grateful as it is exacting on the musician. In both these respects Mr. Van Den Berg realized an ideal which few of the great pianists of the present day possess. From the interpretative side the thorough, deeply convinced musician-artist was in evidence, and grew upon the audience from the first notes of the rhapsodic introduction to the brilliant close of the final presto. There is a marvelous crispness in this pianist's staccato playing, and the singing tone which he reveals at all times is that of the musician-poet. His style of playing is direct and without a tinge of mannerism. The tone-color with which he invested his reading was that of the master who spoke with conviction. A combination of virility and the most exquisite delicacy of the strenuous and poetic type is a rare accomplishment, and in Mr. Van Den Berg is accompanied by absolute rhythmic clearness. The tone which he elicited from his instrument was uniformly beautiful, and in the fairy-like first part of the second movement was invested with a rare gift of poetic fancy. While in the tremendous technical requirements of the presto he fully met virtuosic demands, it was the lofty musical interpretation he gave the entire work that impressed itself most. The concerto's reading in this respect was an event of musical record, and seemed to have back of it the authoritative sanction of the composer himself. Mr. Van Den Berg was recalled by the audience several times, and presented in honor of McKinley Day with a bouquet of deep red carnations. His encore was the Chopin Berceuse, which he gave an original interpretation.

Fleming Circuit Court has adjourned.

Mr. W. L. Broscoe is also in Middlesboro attending the Grand Encampment, I. O. O. F. He is a representative of Pisgah Encampment No. 9 of this city.

Miss Nannie Susan Tucker of Washington and Marcus Alvin Dodson of this city will graduate from Kentucky State College, Lexington, June 9th.

CAUGHT A TURTLE

Mishap to a St. Louis Man Who Went a-Fishing

Mr. D. Keyser Weed of St. Louis, now on a visit to his Kentucky home and the scenes of his happy boyhood days, became an Isaac Walton for the nonce and took his line and pole and hied himself to the placid waters of the North-fork.

After a catch of two or three sunfish about an inch long, his hook was grabbed by a real live turtle, and in the excitement and eagerness of the young Missourian to land a Kentucky turtle—for like our horses and whisky, they are the real thing—he was dragged into the water and received a sprained ankle.

For which misfortune THE LEDGER is real sorry, for Keyser is a born Kentuckian, if he has forgotten how to fish for turtles.

"DO IT TODAY."

The time-worn injunction, "Never put off 'till tomorrow what you can do today," is now generally presented in this form: "Do it today!" That is the terse advice we want to give you about that hacking cough or demoralizing cold with which you have been struggling for several days, perhaps weeks. Take some reliable remedy for it TODAY, and let that remedy be Dr. Ross's German Syrup, which has been in use for over thirty-five years. A few doses of it will undoubtedly relieve your cough or cold, and its continued use for a few days will cure you completely. No matter how deep-seated your cough, even if dread consumption has attacked your lungs, German Syrup will surely effect a cure, as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble. New trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. For sale at Henry W. Ray's Postoffice Drugstore.
